Wallrus

Submitted by:

Kevin Carlos S. Uy

Marie Angeli O. Yan

Submitted to:

Paul John Parreño

Table of Contents

Table of Figures

Table of Revisions

Version 1
Revision	Date	Updates/Changes
1.0	January 14, 2014	Initial Creation
2.0	February 23, 2014	Updated the Sections Updated the Screen Shots Added Table of Contents
3.0	March 5, 2014	Added Table of Figures and Table of Revision

Table of Revisions

What is Wallrus?

Wallrus is a visual bookmarking application that allows you to "pin" images that you find online and want to save or share with others onto virtual pinboards. People can follow you or your pinboards on Wallrus, and they can repin the content you share that they like, which adds it to one of their own pinboards. You can do the same thing with content pinned by other people. Users can also "like" on each other's pins.

What's a Pin?

Pins are like attractive little bookmarks. Whenever you find something on the web that you want to keep, add it to Wallrus. Your newly minted Pin will be here whenever you need it.

Collect Pins on boards

Boards are where you organize your Pins, and you get to decide what they're all about. Set up group boards to share ideas and plan stuff with your friends.

See fresh Pins in your home feed

Your home feed is where you'll find all sorts of new and inspiring things to add to your own boards. These pins are pins from your friends.

Who uses Wallrus?

Many individuals use Wallrus just for fun. It can be a hobby to pin things, similar to scrapbooking for many users.

Businesses use Wallrus to share images from events and to show off customized product collections. Creative businesses find great ways to share their products and services without using patent self-promotion tactics.

Launch Application

To lauch the application, the user must tap on the wallrus app on the device's appication drawer. This will open the app's login and signup screen (Figure 1). The screen houses the Login and Signup buttons and displays popular posts by other users.

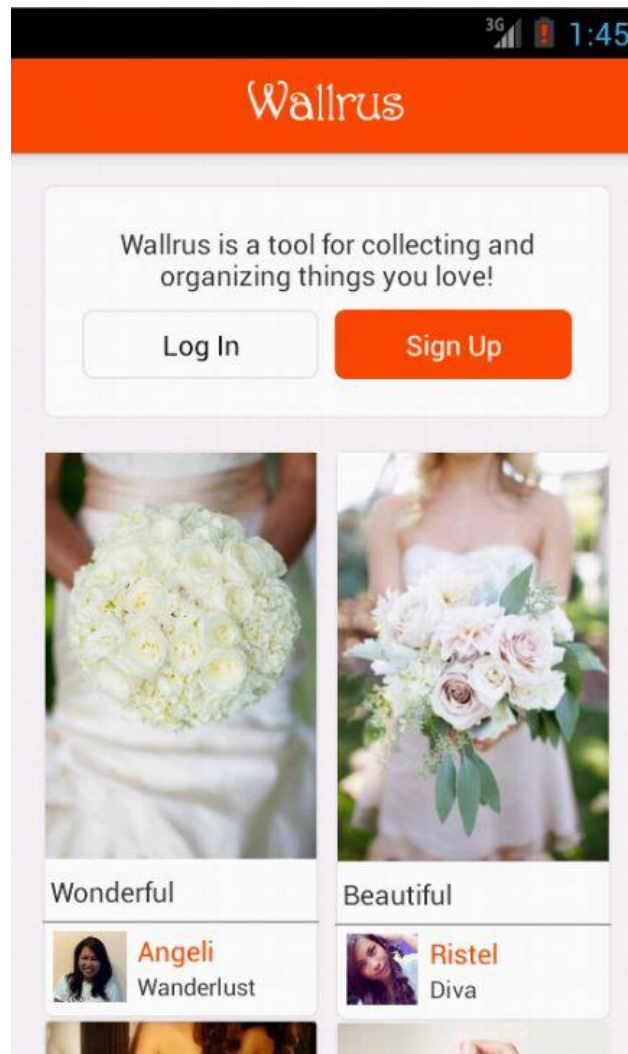

Figure 1 Login and Signup

Login

Tap on the login button in the signup and login page to show the login popup (Figure 2), the user has different options to log in, by facebook, twitter or a registered wallrus account.

Login In by Facebook

To login using an existing facebook account, tap on the Login with Facebook button. If the user is not currently logged-in in facebook on the user's device, the user must enter his facebook login credentials and tap on login. Otherwise, if the user has already logged in, the user will be automatically directed to his feed(Figure 5).

Login by Twitter

To login using an existing twitter account, tap on the Login with Twitter button. If the user is not currently logged-in in twitter on the user's device, the user must enter his facebook login credentials and tap on login. Otherwise, if the user has already logged in, the user will be automatically directed to his feed(Figure 5)

Login by Wallrus username and password

To login with a registered wallrus account, the user must type his user name and password on their respective fields and tap on the Login button. If the user entered the correct credentials, the user will be directed to his feed (Figure 5). Otherwise, Figure 3 will show if login button is tapped while fields are empty.

Sign Up

To sign up for a wallrus account, the user must tap on the signup button on the Login and Signup page (Figure 1), the user will then be directed to the register page where the user must eneter all the required fields and click on the submit button on the action bar. If all inputted data are valid, the user is redirected to his feed(Figure 5).
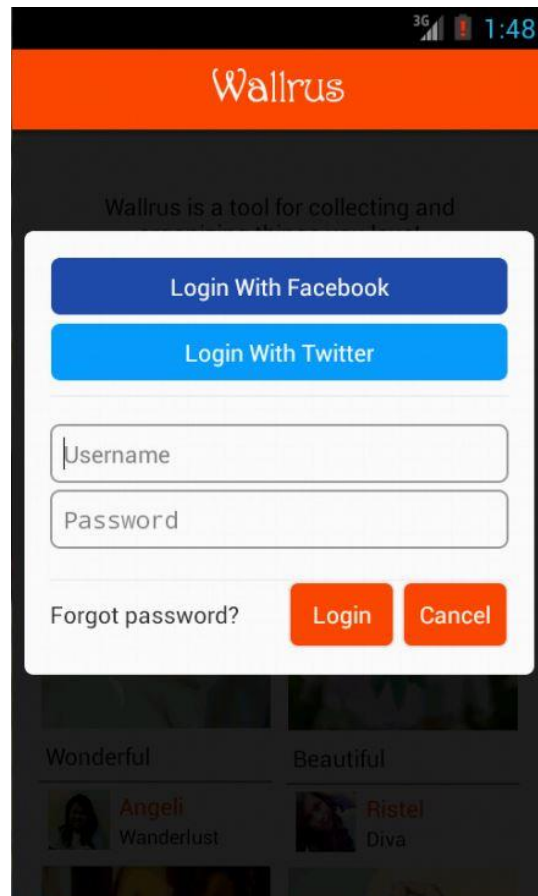

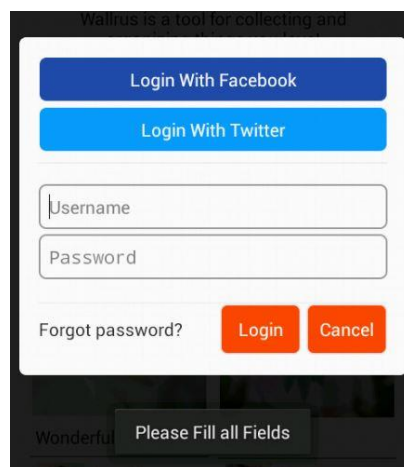

Figure 2 Login Popup

Figure 3 Fill all fields

Figure 4 Invalid input

Feed

The feed (Figure 5) shows pins pinned by users that the user has followed. Pins are sorted by date, previous pins are loaded automatically when the user scrolls down.

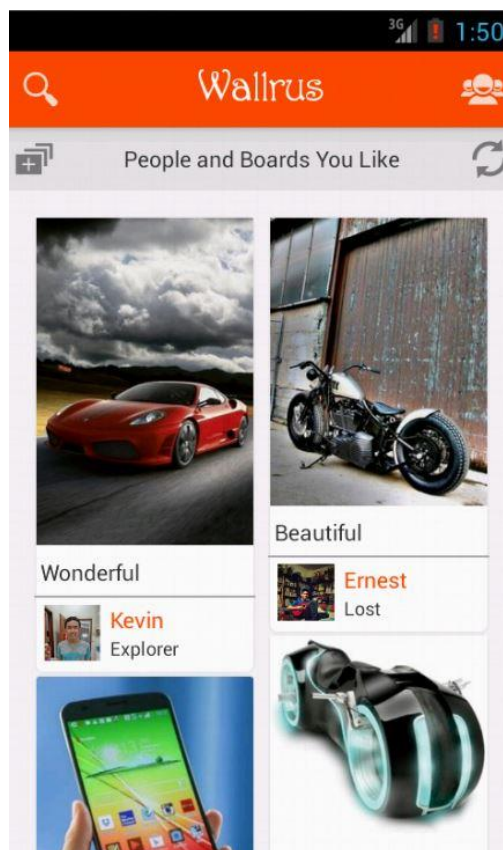

Figure 5 Feed

9

View Pins

To view pins, the user must tap on a pin on the feed(Figure 5). This will redirect the user to the pin(Figure 6), the user can favorite/unfavorite and pin the pin.

Favorite/Unfavorite

To favorite the pin, the user must tap on the heart button at the bottom of the screen. To unfavorite a favorited pin, the user must simply tap on the heart button again. A red heart indicates that the pin has been favorited while a gray heart indicates that the pin has not been favorited.

Pin It!

The user may pin the pin by simply tapping on the Pin It! Button at the bottom of the screen.

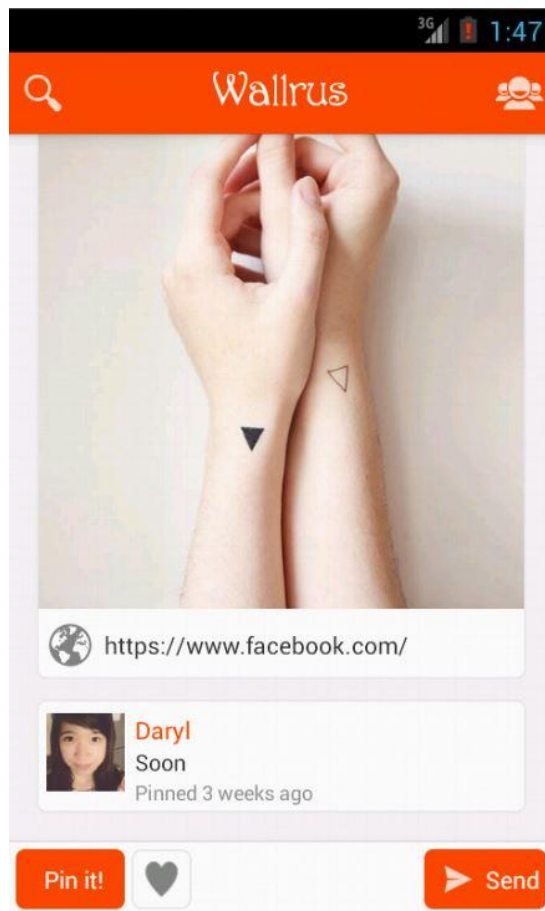

Figure 6 Pin

Boards

The Boards tab is found in the User's Profile page. It contains the boards created by users according to his likes. Each board contains a collection of pins.

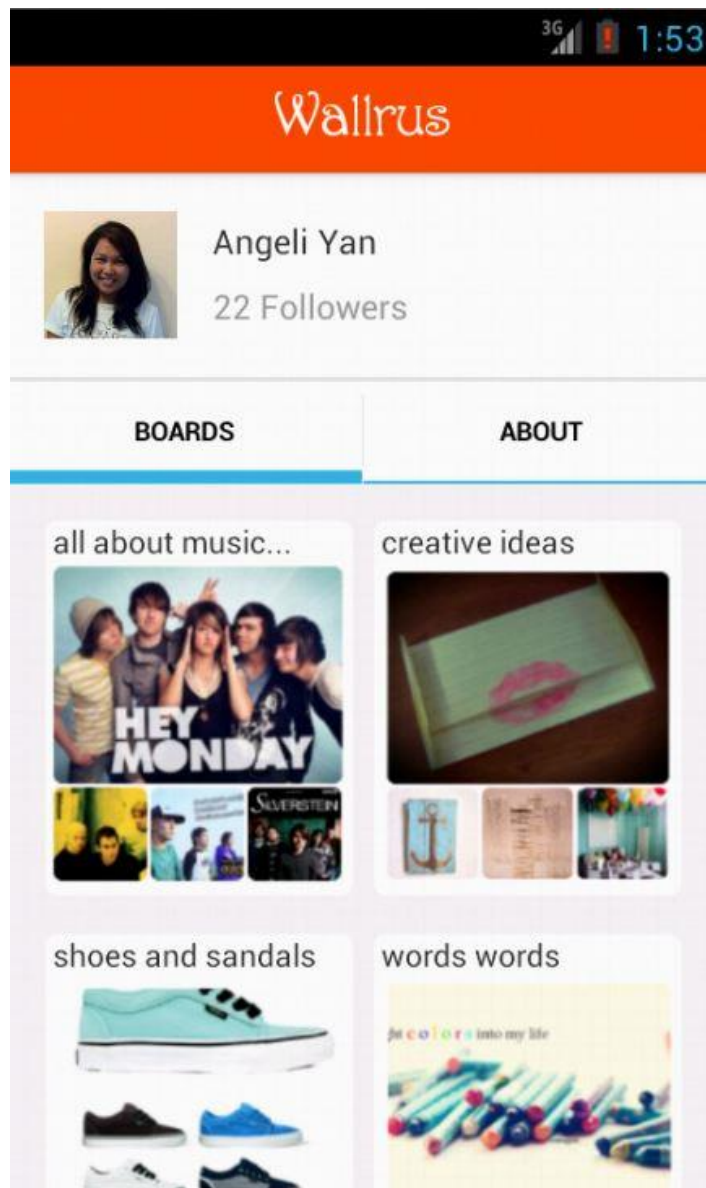

Figure 7 Boards

About

The About tab is found in the User's Profile page. This tab contains information about the current user.

Figure 8 About

User Profile

The image below shows the beautifully designed User Profile of the current user. The User Profile displays the following: current user's photo, name, username, number of followers, number of people the user is following, and user's notifications.

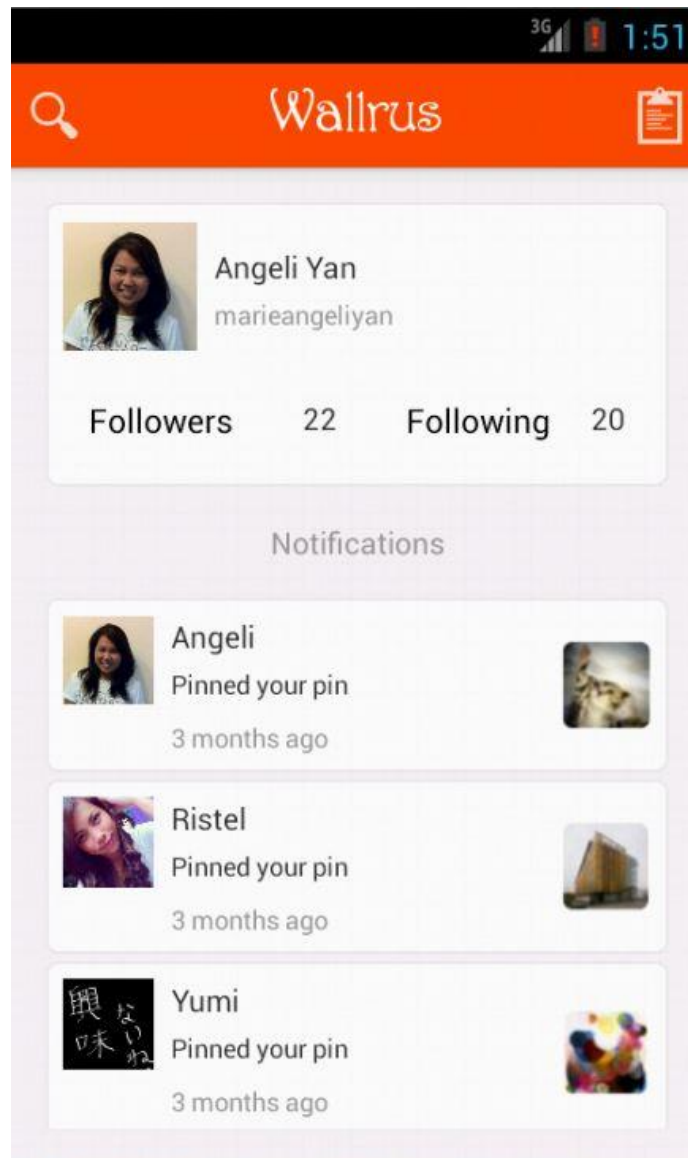

Figure 9 User Profile

Followers

Upon tapping the Follower field, the user is redirected to a page where he can view all his followers.

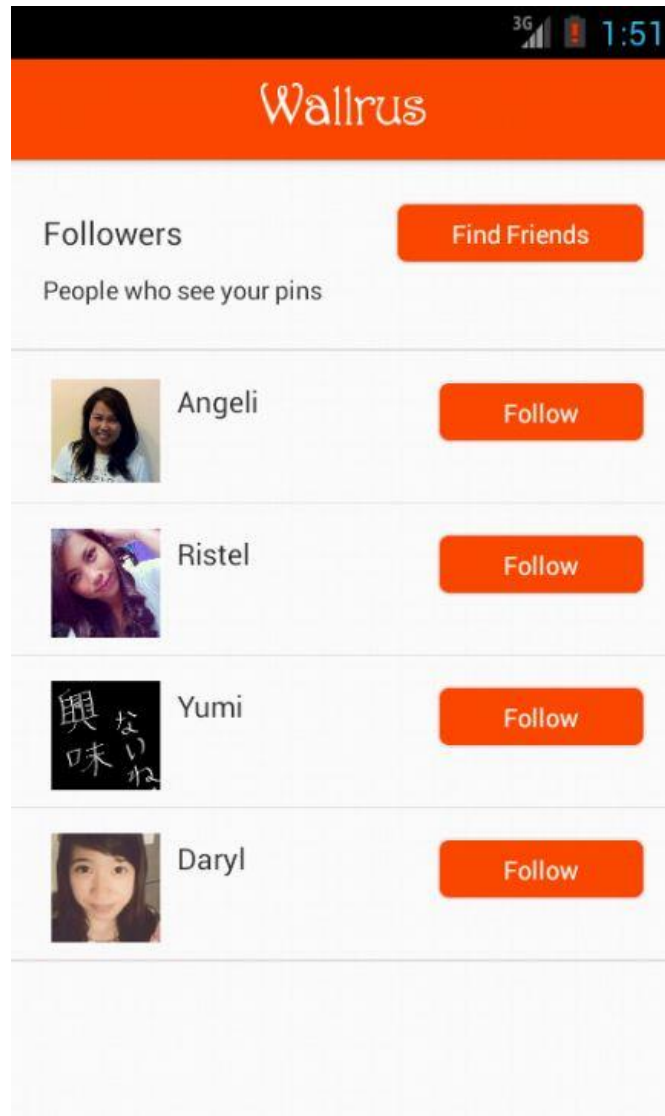

Figure 10 Followers

Following

Upon tapping the Following field, the user is redirected to a page where he can view all the people that he is currently following.

Figure 11 Following

Figure 12 Unfollow button

Figure 12 and Figure 13 shows that the user can follow or unfollow other users from Followers and Following Page.

Figure 13 Follow button

Search

The Search page enables the user to search anything the he desires. The results will be organized according to its category.

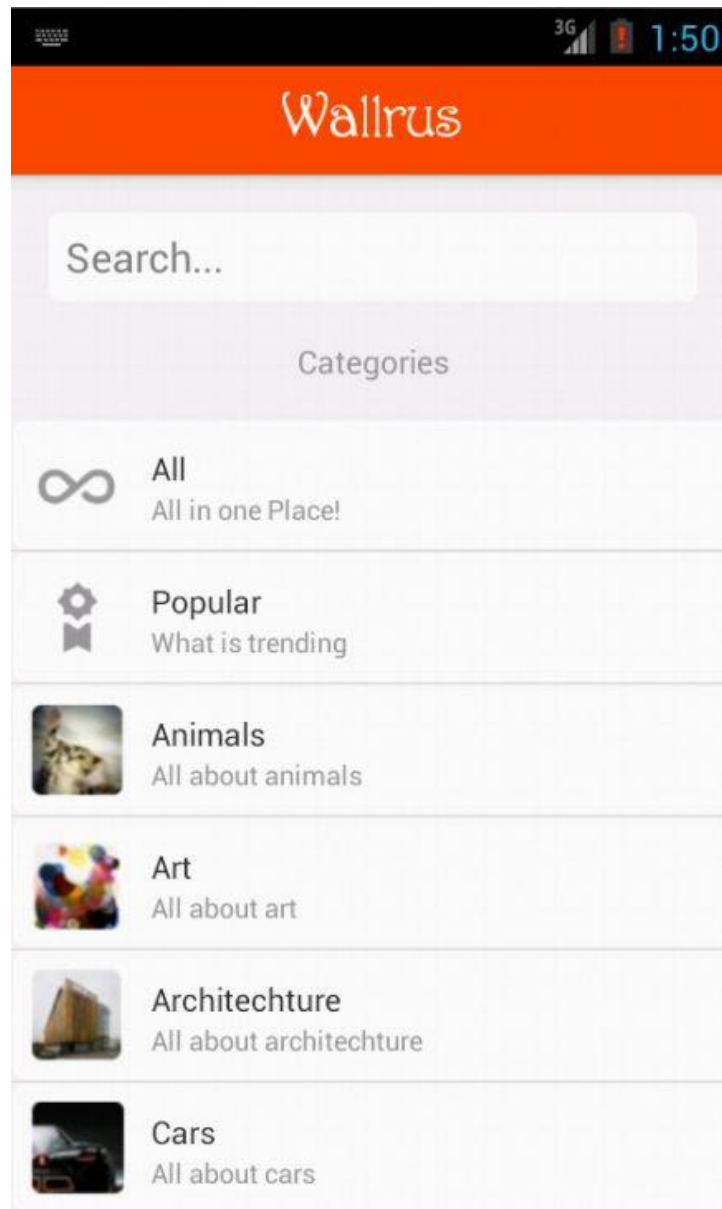

Figure 14 Search